Environmental Interpretation
Summer 2014, A-Term
BIOL 399 D - Biology Internship

Hands-on training in environmental interpretation for students interested in natural history, tourism and recreation.

Students will learn how to:

• Promote environmental stewardship and instill a sense of wonder about the natural world
• Combine theoretical foundations with practical skills in delivering quality interpretive programs

 Option to earn National Certification through this course for an additional fee.

BIOL 399 D - BIOLOGY INTERNSHIP
MW, 9:10AM - 12:30PM
June 23th - July 23th, 2014
Instructor: Celese Spencer
3 Credits
$45 Course Fee
Field Trip: One required. Two to choose from. Dates TBD.